

Andy Maggs

Executive Coach

🏠 Windsor, England UK

Language

- English

About Me

Father, husband, and nuts about boating. I enjoy staying fit and being outdoors, often with a muddy dog in tow.

About Work

I care about creating and holding space for better conversations in the workplace. I am an internationally certified master coach (Ashridge and EMCC), I hold an MSc in Executive Coaching and have run over 16,500 hours of individual and group coaching. I am proud to have had leadership roles in 5 different sectors including senior roles in Operations, HR, Sales and Marketing, and Management Training. Today I run a virtual coaching consultancy focused on helping organisations create coach-rich cultures and providing impactful executive coaching. I am also globally certified to run professionally accredited training for internal and external coaches. To date have trained and certified over 500 professional coaches. I and my associate team have reached clients in over 36 countries.